Farm Bureau Sets Community Meeting

to win topics

The Hondo 60 plus Club is planning to meet this fall on Saturday, Sept. 14, at the courthouse in Hondo.

Floyd Slater, J. B. Hurt, and Ed Herger met Saturday morning with Ed Ney and Dr. O. B. Taylor to plan the afternoon's meeting.

The organization of classes in Hondo sponsored by Southwest Texas Junior College of Uvalde will get underway Thursday night, Sept. 19, at the high school.

H. R. Burch, who has taught classes for the college, states that the college will offer almost any course if there are at least 10 students interested in studying the subject.

A social security representative, Mike Wade, will be in Hondo at the District Courtroom on Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1957, at 9:00 a.m.

Twelve Medina County men have registered recently with the Local Board, 48, Selective Service System of Pearsall.

They are: Richard L. Morris, Richard H. Moos, Luis Barrios, Luis G. Barrios, Rocky Trejo, Ramon R. Garcia and John Batot of Hondo; Jose E. Gonzales of D'Hanis; Russel J. Jung of LaCoste; Stephen S. Haby of Robert J. Bayer of Castroville; and William L. Leuschner of Devine.

A permit to drill a 450-foot test in the Chicon Lake area about four miles northwest of Hondo is the No. 1. W. H. Lamson, and is located on a 55-acre tract in Section 12, Block 16-A, about 200 feet south of Road 220.

The Hondo School Board has approved a budget for the Hondo Independent School District which is considerably lower than last year's actual expenditures.

J. G. Gentry, superintendent of schools, claimed this by saying that the elementary school was completed last year and the outlay for that category was way up.

This year, practically all other items of the budget are up over a year except for that capital outlay.

The total proposed budget is $38,000 compared to last year's $49,937, actually spent.

A breakdown for the 1957-58 school year shows: Administration and Supplies, $13,900; Instruction costs, $18,991; Other school services, $13,900; Operation of Plant, $26,100; Maintenance of Plant, $8,000; Fixed Charges, including insurance, $3,200; Outlay, $9,531; and Debt service, $33,936.

The business of the Wednesday night meeting of the school board included the election of four

The Medina County Farm Bureau will hold a series of community meetings preceding their annual county convention in October, according to Calvin Hardt, Yancey, president.

Set for discussion Monday, Sept. 16, in the district court room in Hondo will be farm policies, the preparation of resolutions and the nomination of a director to serve for the coming year. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Directors for the area meeting on Monday evening are Odie Gilliam, North Hondo, and R. D. Burden, South Hondo.

Farm Bureau policies are built by the membership whether the policies are on county, state or national issues. They are based on recommendations adopted by a majority vote, according to Hardt, who urges all farmers and ranchers in the Hondo area to be present Monday.

R. Meyer Stationed In Arabia

Following a two week's vacation from his position in Tice, Florida, Roy Meyer was assigned to a new location in Saudi Arabia.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meyer, have recently received word that he has arrived in Dharan situated on the Persian Gulf after stopping in Amsterdam, Holland, and Rome, Italy, on the flight over.

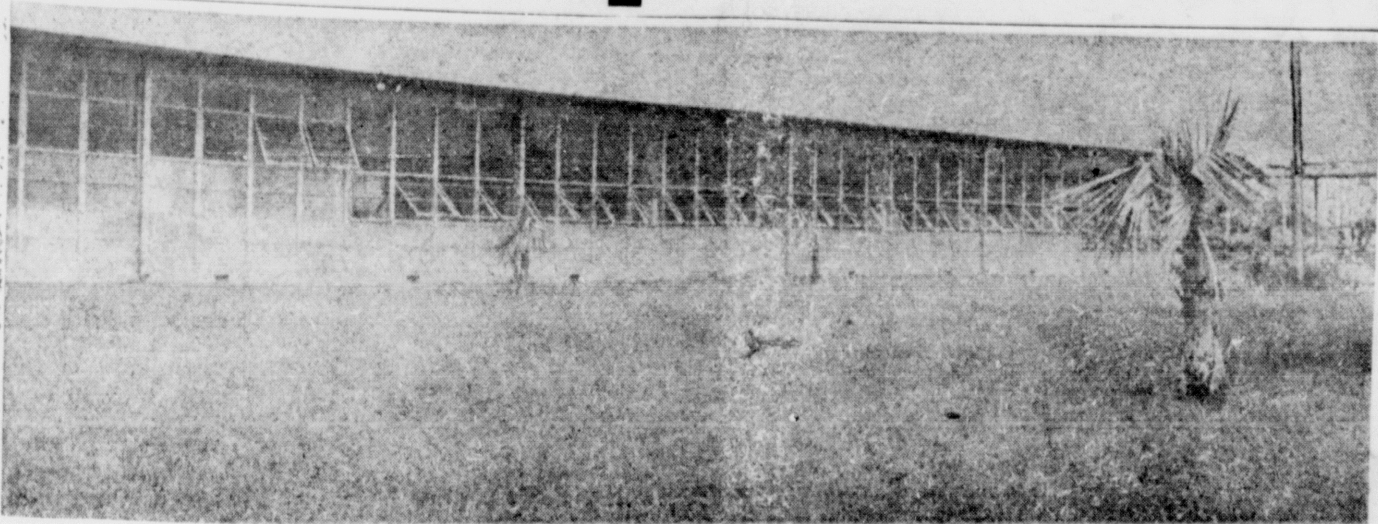

A graduate with the degree of Bachelor of Science from Sul Ross State College, Roy is employed by the Robert H. Ray Co. of Houston, a geophysical company.

Ex Castro Mayor Heads Scout Drive

Former Mayor Woodrow Sharp has assumed the chairmanship of the Castroville Community Boy Scout Finance Campaign. He, together with Scout Committeemen Claude Tondre, Charles Suehs, Lawrence Nuckles and Gene Suehs, met with other Scout leaders at Pearsall the past week to formulate plans for the important event.

"I need workers who are interested in boys and who will help put this campaign over. Call me or come by and tell me you want to aid us in this worthwhile project," Dr. Sharp urged. This campaign is the one big drive conducted yearly in October to finance the Scouts' activities.

Must Stop For Busses, Either Way

Local school and city officials have greeted the new school term with warnings for violators of those who approach school buses either loading or unloading children.

O. L. Moss, city secretary, states that a 20 miles per hour limit exists along Highway 90 wherever school children cross and that warning signs are posted. He says not only may the City Marshal arrest people for violating the speed limit, but also the sheriff's department, which has jurisdiction all over Medina County, and the Texas Highway Patrol which watches for violations on state or U. S. highways.

The speed limit in a few residential areas near schools in Hondo is 10 miles per hour, and this figure is clearly marked on signs in the area. Drivers are asked to watch for the markings on the road signs whether they be near a school or at a crossing where children are apt to walk.

Each year Hondo has a traffic accident involving some school child and drivers are warned to be alert.

SCHOOL BUS LAWS
In addition to this, three state agencies have joined in urging the continuation of a state-wide program to acquaint the public with the Texas law requiring all vehicles to stop when approaching a school bus loading or unloading children. They are the Texas Education Agency, the Texas Highway Department, and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Superintendents and news editors performed an outstanding public service in this safety campaign last year," said J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education. "Yet 7 lives were lost during the school year in collisions involving school buses. There is a continuing need for a program of safety education."

There were two more fatalities during 1956-57 than were reported to the Department of Public Safety in 1955-56. The total number of accidents reported declined, however, from 379 to 335. (During the past year the Highway Department erected signs on all major roads warning motorists of the safety measure.) The law says in effect, that upon meeting or overtaking a school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging children, the driver of any vehicle shall stop immediately before passing. After coming to a stop the driver of the vehicle can proceed with due caution at a speed which is prudent and does not exceed ten miles per hour. The law does not apply within city limits.

Vehicles are not required to stop on highways with separate roadways when the bus is on a different roadway from that of a passing vehicle. Vehicles are not required to stop if the school bus is stopped in a loading zone which is a part of or adjacent to a controlled-access highway and where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

All public school buses are painted yellow and have "School Bus" painted in large letters on the front and rear of each bus. They are equipped with flasher lights usually mounted high on the front and rear of the bus. These lights are used only when the bus is in the process of stopping or is stopped to receive or discharge children.

LACOSTE EAGLE BAND ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The LaCoste Eagle Band elected their officers on Sept. 4th for the coming year. They are as follows: President, Dorothy Smith; Vice President, Alice Ann Reicherzer; Secretary, Annette Hitzfelder; Librarian, Barbara Rhin; Reporter, Dorothy Smith; and band director, C. E. Davis.

Hondo Hospital? Yes, But No Hondo Patients

Last Tuesday the Medina Hospital in Hondo had patients from LaCoste, Pearsall, Devine and Utopia.

But not a patient did they have from Hondo.

The following day, the eastern part of the county voted overwhelmingly against a new hospital for the county. One of their principal reasons for opposing it was that they would be building a hospital for Hondoans — that they didn't use our present one.

"Nuf said."

Battle Review: St. Mihiel

(Editors note: Sept. 12 is the anniversary date of one of the hardest fought battles in which American soldiers have participated. With this in mind, we have asked Dr. O. B. Taylor, who took part in the ordeal, to write his impressions. Much of this is from his personal diary.)

By Dr. O. B. Taylor

We who survive have a vivid impression, in spite of the elapsed 39 years, of the terrible ordeal in which we were engaged! To those who gave their all on the field of battle, as well as those who have since passed on, we honor their memory on the anniversary of one of the greatest battles of all time.

While American troops, earlier in World War One fought side by side with soldiers of other countries particularly, French, British, Canadians, Australians and others at Cantigny, Chateau-Thierry and Belleau Woods, it was at St. Mihiel, that saw an all American drive, except some French Artillery was used in the operation, which was initiated at 1 a.m.

Sept. 12, 1918 by heavy artillery fire of destruction.

At 5 a.m. on this date, the six American Divisions in the front line (on the southern face of the salient and west of the Moselle River) advanced, preceded by a rolling barrage laid down by the artillery. The enemy, demoralized by the volume of artillery fire and the suddenness of the attack, did not, except in certain sectors, make a stubborn defense. In an irresistible dash the Americans got through wire entanglements which had held up the allies for four years.

Within four days all objectives were taken, the large St. Mihiel salient wiped out, and the line stabilized Sept. 16th.

Approximately one half million American soldiers were engaged in this battle. Numerous casualties on both sides.

With the advance, our company (Field Hospital Co. 339) operated a field hospital for several weeks in a dense wooded area near Rogerville, France.

Then on Oct. 9th we were sent back for a rest at Blenod-les-Toul, France, an old village. Noted some grave stones that had been standing for over 200 years. Also, an old church, construction of which was started in 1506 and completed in 1512.

On Oct. 15th we were moved by French trucks (with Chinese drivers) up on the Verdun road, and set up for the Meuse-Argonne offensive, operating a field hospital through this engagement, and the signing of the Armistice on Nov. 11th. It was in this battle that my good friend, Oscar Wurzbach, Rio Medina, was killed, Oct. 25th.

Our Division, 90th, was one of several that comprised the American Army of occupation, with Coblenz, Germany, on the Rhine, as the bridgehead, six months here.

A number of Hondo and Medina Co. boys were in the 90th and recall many incidents relative to these remarks — Our ranks are growing thinner, and who knows what tomorrow may bring?

My salute to Veterans of all wars, both living and dead.

STILL QUOTING FROM THE STORY OF A TEXAS PIONEER

"With a part of my earnings I purchased a mule and cart, paying seventy-five dollars for the outfit, and engaged in hauling water from the Rio Grande, which sold at 25 cents a barrel. Considering the amount of capital invested it was the best paying business in which I ever engaged, and it was my constant occupation until I was offered employment that gave me an opportunity to see the country, then I hired a man to drive the cart during my absence.

"Messrs. Herman and Gilbean, cotton-brokers in Pedras Negras, wanted to visit San Luis Potosi on business. As the distance was five hundred and fifty miles over an unsafe road an escort was necessary, and they hired me and a Mexican to serve in that capacity. They traveled in an ambulance with four mules driven by a Mexican and the escort accompanied them on horseback all the way. A brief sketch of our route and the prominent places of interest is worthy of notice in a section of country where the greater part was a desolate wilderness, but as it is described elsewhere as far as Monterey in another connection, the reader's attention will be directed to a few places of importance beyond that city.

"The city of Saltillo is situated in the State of Coahuila, seventy-five miles southwest of Monterey, on the north slope of a ridge that crosses the whole valley and it is in sight after passing the Hacienda of San Gregorio. It was then a wellbuilt town of substantial homes, with good paved streets, and a beautiful Alameda. A number of factories were established there, and they contributed greatly to the prosperity of the place by giving employment to the inhabitants. Several of them manufactured unbleached cotton goods extensively, and others turned out woolen goods. They also had the reputation of turning out the finest of the well-known hand-made Mexican blankets that were admired for their excellent quality and workmanship, not only in the Republic but in Europe and the United States, where they were sold for from thirty to fifty dollars apiece.

"The road from Saltillo to San Luis Potosi passed through San Cristobal and the Hacienda de Guadalupe, to the right of the Catorce mountains, which rises two thousand feet above the surrounding plains. When within twenty-five miles of San Luis Potosi the beautiful city appears and distance adds enchantment to the view which becomes more attractive the nearer it is approached. Stately domes and numerous lofty towers give prominence to the substantial buildings that crowd upon its narrow streets. These, when entered, are found to be interesting on account of the way they are laid out and because of their superior construction and cleanliness. Among its public buildings is a splendid city hall and five or six magnificent churches adorned with carvings and sculpture that rival any in Mexico, the most superb of which is the Cathedral.

"In 1862 San Luis was one of the most enterprising cities in the republic, independent of its mining interests, that at one time attracted great attention. The San Pedro mine was once the most prominent in Mexico, on account of the single piece of pure gold taken out of it, that is said to have been the largest solid lump of gold ever found in Mexico or any part of the world. It was sent to Spain as a present to the King, and in return for that act of generosity, the King contributed a beautiful and costly clock to the city as a gift for its cathedral, which I suppose strikes the hours now as it did in 1862 when I was there. The noted San Pedro mine, which was near the city, was abandoned many years before my visit on account of water that flooded the interior and caused it to cave. So far the evil has not been remedied, but perhaps scientific skill will overcome the difficulties eventually and make its wealth accessible.

"After reaching our destination my employers ascertained that a lot of silver bullion was due them had not been delivered. The treasure was expected from the mines of Real de Catorce, distant about one hundred and forty miles, and it was essential that it should be secured with as little delay as possible. For that purpose I and the two Mexicans of our party were sent with four pack mules, under the orders of Angel Hernandez, a resident of San Luis Potosi. We arrived at the smelting works of the Catorce mines about eight o'clock in the evening.

"The city of Real de Catorce is situated on top of a high range of mountains, and the only approach was up a narrow winding path cut in the side of the rugged acclivity that could only be ascended on foot or the back of mules. This and another similar trail were dug out of the perpendicular face of the precipice, and each with its windings was about two miles in length. Its name, Calorco, 'fourteen', was given it (See DAVIS, Page 3)

THE BIG WHEELS!

Moms And Dads Are Guilty—A Case Of The Little Man Who Wasn't There

There is hardly a mother or dad around who isn't anxious for the children of the family to be a part of Blue Birds and Camp Fire or Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts. They are anxious for them to be a part, but many expect some other child's parents to do the work with little or no cooperation on their own part.

Every fall, there are not enough leaders for Camp Fire and Blue Birds, and all year, every year, there is a need for more Scout leaders. But in the Scouts at least, local Scout Masters and council members have just about worked out a solution.

Both Hondo's troops have been short of adult assistants, so last year Ralph Jones began a plan which has proved to be quite effective. His troop was overcrowded and he could not take new boys until he worked out an ultimatum; A boy could not become a member of his outfit unless his parents promised to actively participate. He says it has worked remarkably well too.

Tom Kuykendall, Scout Master, of the other Hondo Boy Scout Troop, has adopted this policy and he advised the same procedure for Cub Scouts in a speech to den mothers recently. "Maybe that sounds rather hard hearted when children are so eager to get it. But on the other hand, why should parents expect some other adult to do for their children what they won't even do themselves?"

These men certainly have a point. Of course there may be circumstances which prevent a parent from being Scoutmaster, den mother or Camp Fire leader; however, there are many other jobs they certainly can do. They can take charge of refreshments, make the phone calls, supply transportation when needed. But they should feel obligated to assist in some way if they want their children to participate.

Dear Friend:
This is the last of my newsletters for this year. They will be resumed with the next session of Congress in January. Meanwhile, I am returning to Texas for rest, relaxation and some visits with old friends.

But since this is the last of my newsletters for the time being, I think it is time to take a look at the first session. It did not accomplish everything. No session can do that. But it delivered what it promised.

ECONOMY? The people called for economy and they got exactly that. The budget was cut by $5,600,000,000 — 8.7 per cent. A Democratic Congress saved that much money out of the proposals of a Republican President.

MILITARY? Military construction is important to Texas. Our State is a key part of the defense system. Congress appropriated $72,375,000 for further construction and expansion of facilities in Texas.

better about the whole transaction. The closing days of the session were featured by the debate over the civil rights bill. It was necessary to accept an amendment approved by the House. But this amendment did not touch the Senate jury trial provision to any practical extent. I want to thank all the people of Texas. You have been very understanding. It is a great pleasure to work for such wonderful people. For the time being, so long. I hope to see you while I am in Texas this Fall. Meanwhile, goodbye, good luck and God bless you.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible
The Lord is high unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.—(Psalm 34, 18.)
Into the helplessness of our utmost sorrow comes this wonderful consolation; and this promise, this reprieve—this chance ever to begin anew. God will always hear us, from the deepest pit of despair.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

BY JERRY JUNE BERGER

SUSAN LEVINE had a lot to say about the opening day at school. Her mother, Mrs. BARNEY LEVINE picked her up at the close of school that afternoon and inquired what they had been doing all day. "Oh mostly just drinking water," the Meyer Elementary first-grader replied, "and you know what? At lunch time, they didn't even hand out menus for us to pick what we wanted to eat. We all had to eat the same thing."

Her mother told us about this around 4 p.m. that first day and commented, "It's a good thing they don't have menus—she would be ordering yet."

Last year RICKIE JONES and DICK PORTER of the local Boy Scouts were initiated into the Order of the Arrow at camp. Last weekend they were back at Indian Creek near Ingram but this time they were helping dish out the initiations.

As it turned out, though, the entire camp received a thorough drenching when the rains came, finding the boys with sleeping-bags but no tents. There was nothing to do but take it. They report a fine time anyway.

We don't know what is happening to the male population around Hondo, but high school enrollment shows that there are 131 girls here compared to 103 boys in the same four grades.

A total of 234 high school students is broken down into 32 in the 12th grade, 51 in the eleventh, 60 in the tenth and 91 in the ninth. High School Principal H. R. BURCH says this year's class of Seniors is one of the smallest in recent years.

At the Lacy School Principal BOB NATIONS reports 77 in the eighth grade, 65 in the seventh, 94 in the sixth, 109 in the fifth and 106 in the fourth — a total of 451.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
In your August 2, 1957, issue of the Anvil Herald there appeared an appreciated tribute to Universal-Rundle Corporation and its employees.

Our Company is very conscious of its responsibilities in the communities of which they are a part. We definitely feel that the company and the individuals who strive to be both a good neighbor and a good citizen.

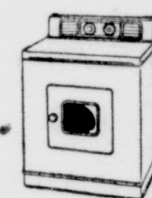

It is gratifying to learn that employees are creditably participating in civic affairs. However, it is realized that if our people serve the community, then the community of which they are a part must be complimented for excellent cooperation.

We hope you continue to be proud of Universal-Rundle and are to be part of Hondo. Sincerely,

Then—a newspaper was a thing to be marveled at—for memories of the Press' fight for freedom were fresh in mind. Although newspapers are common in our country today, their existence should not be taken for granted. It is a wonderful fact that almost all of our modern communities have their own hometown newspapers, freely edited by members of their own communities—spreading the news, stimulating the business of the community, and keeping their readers informed of important events elsewhere. It is well to keep in mind that a free press and a free people are an unbeatable team.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

This is the month that separates the outdoorsmen. Some are hunters, some fishermen, some both. How does a "both" man decide where to go — field or stream? I'll guess with you. He goes dove hunting, if in reach of the North Zone; his mind's ear hears the shotgun blast, and his mind's eye sees the birds fall.

But some of our outdoorsmen will stick to their fishing. They'll figure that now September's here the fish will be a little bit more cooperative, maybe. Also, shrewdly, they'll think the best fishing spots may be less crowded, what with the hunters gone to the sunflower patch.

Let's talk about both of those guys — the fisherman first.

He is concerned about the black bass, and that fish has been suffering his usual case of the summer sulks.

He has been playing it cozy, down deep where the water is cool, moving around very little, using up not much energy and requiring a minimum of food. But he can be had.

Old time anglers are getting bass, these hot days, by fishing deep with minnows or plugs. Deep trolling also pays off.

The Hellbender has been a productive lure at Lakes Whitney, Texhoma, Possum Kingdom, and the Highland Lakes of Central Texas. Work it deep and slow.

The big bass are down deep as they can get to keep cool, but they have to stay above the "dead" water where the oxygen content is too low.

That may be 20 to 30 feet down, but you'll have to experiment to find the right depth in your own favorite fishing hole. All depends on the water temperature and the oxygen content of the water.

If the first norther of autumn hits before this gets into print — change signals.

When that happens, your lake or stream will "turn over." That means when the surface is colder than the bottom, the top, cold water will sink and the bottom, warmer water will rise to the top.

Look for that day! When it comes, get out your top water lures and be confident of getting bass if you are fishing in good waters and using your bait adroitly.

Meanwhile, the bass will hit surface lures, even in hot weather. Try them early in the morning or in late afternoon. Or at night.

NOW ABOUT WHITES
 That's black bass we've been talking about. Now, what about the white bass?

All summer, these fish have been congregating in the swift water below dams, eating their fill of shad that abound in such waters.

Many fishermen have caught limit strings of white bass all through the summer, fishing in the fast water. But now, this kind of fishing has dropped off. What's the trouble?

Well, the spring-born shad are now getting a little too big for the whites to handle. So the fish are drifting downstream, looking for other food.

They will be moving around a lot. But if your minnow or spoon is there—in the right place at the right time — you will be in business in a big way.

Work your bait deep, where the water is cool, using the same technique as for blacks.

WORK LURES SLOWLY
 I suspect that most anglers work their lures too fast.

Fish like action, but they like it slow. To give an example, my fishing partner and I catch good strings of bass in the Highland Lakes of Central Texas, using minnows, either free swimming or with a light split shot.

This is the procedure: toss the minnow out there in bass water and let him swim. Put the rod down and pour a cup of coffee out of the Thermos. Maybe you get a strike, maybe not.

But pick up that rod and begin reeling in — very, very slowly. Pretty soon, here comes a little tug. Don't get excited. Wait.

Reel in some more — very slowly. Another tug, maybe harder this time. Don't strike yet, wait him out. You can feel when he is on. Then strike, hard. Result: bass.

TROTLINE TECHNIQUE
 Well, about catfishing: how often do you run your trotline?

The experts are at odds on this point. Some of them give the line a test every hour or two — others allow much more time for the catfish to get themselves hooked.

One experienced trotliner of my acquaintance belongs to the long-wait school of thought.

He reasons that a big, heavy, lazy catfish will take his own sweet time with a bream or other bait. He nibbles at it, nudges it around, contemplates it, and takes it (maybe) when the notion strikes him.

I am inclined to go along with this easy-does-it kind of catfishing.

Fishing is not much of a hurry-up proposition, anyhow. You've got to relax to catch fish. And learning to relax is maybe the best thing about this sport.

DOVE SHOOTERS PROSPER
 Turning to the hunting situation — reports coming in here say the North Zone shooters are doing pretty well, and there are plenty of birds, though some are small.

Whitewing hunters will be numerous in the Valley about now; the season being Sept. 13-15-17.

Soar, Then Droop, Over Proposal To Cut Down Spending By Washington

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm must be behind with his taxes, his letter this week might indicate.

Dear editor:

Life is sometimes full of queer turns in the road. You think you're getting something you've been wanting, and it turns out it wasn't that at all.

For example, I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon wandering around sizing up the month of September and figuring what I could get out of it when my foot got tangled up with an open section of a newspaper which I hadn't noticed as I was looking off into space at the time and I found by lifting my foot I could could pick it up without bending much so I got hold of it and kept going toward the shade tree I was heading for and sat down and read.

The thing that caught my eye immediately was an article out of Washington saying President Eisenhower was recommending that the Federal government give up some of its taxing powers.

Now this was just what I have been looking for. Everybody talks about high taxes, the national debt, and more and more spending, but here was a concrete proposal for putting a stop to some Federal spending. If the Federal government stops taking part of our money, it'd sure have to stop spending it. Tax relief is what everybody needs. Always have. Probably always will.

But then I read on, and here's what I found out: what the Federal government is proposing is that it stop collecting some taxes and let the states collect 'em.

Frankly, that's not what I had in mind.

Changing tax collectors ain't my idea of tax relief. I'm sure the state needs more money, and maybe some taxes Washington is now collecting ought to be collected by the state, but that still leaves you and me in the same shape we were in before. Stopping Federal spending, so State spending can pick up, is like patching an inner tube in one place and punching a hole in it in another. It's like cutting down on money for clothes and adding the difference to your grocery bill. Your nose stings to the grindstone, either way.

You mean to say we've got to start this tax relief drive all over again and explain when we mean Federal spending we mean all spending?

Yours faithfully, J. A.

because the canon was first inhabited by a band of fourteen robbers.

"The population of the town then numbered in the neighborhood of six thousand people. The public buildings and houses were substantially built of stone, and the streets, though narrow, were paved, and cleanliness was enforced. No vehicle of any kind could be seen in the place, and it was said that none had ever been introduced, but the deficiency was supplied by pack animals. The inhabitants derived their support from the rich mines situated in a canon of the mountains which rise above the plateau on which the city is built. The ore was very rich and the mines were owned by Santos de la Masa, who worked them according to very prehistoric methods.

"The ore was conveyed from the mines to the foot of the mo in hamper on the backs of burros. Each burden weighed one hundred and fifty pounds, and they traveled in a slow pace, as they wound down the trail leading from the mine, in a continuous line and returned unloaded, in a snail-like pace, along an equally narrow trail up another route.

Kitchen Shower Honors Couple Soon To Marry

Miss Marilyn Tschirhart honored Miss Barbara Perrin and Martin Baum, Jr., with a swimming party and kitchen shower at Camp Cayoca in Castroville Tuesday evening, August 27.

The tables were laid with brown cloths and yellow dishes were used for serving, carrying out the yellow and brown color scheme of their kitchen. The centerpiece was a huge arrangement of yellow and bronze mums in a basket. About thirty guests were present.

Miss Perrin and Mr. Baum will be married in St. Paul's Church in October.

Miss Mary Lois Langfeld Weds Bill Laughinghouse

Holy Cross Church of D'Hanis was scene of the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Mary Lois Langfeld, D'Hanis, and William Louis Laughinghouse, Hondo. The Rev. O. B. Kahlich officiated in the double ring rites Saturday, Aug. 31, at an altar decorated with yellow gladioli, fern and candles.

Mrs. Amos Finger played the traditional marches at the pipe organ and a mixed choir sang responses to the Nuptial High Mass and "Ave Marie".

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Langfeld of D'Hanis, wore a floor length gown of imported French chantilly lace.

The basque waist had a scalloped Queen Anne collar and fitted sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. A cascade of the lace fell over the front of the bouffant ruffled skirt of nylon over satin and was draped toward the back to form a bustle. Her veil of imported French illusion was fastened to a cap of white pleated nylon. On her white prayer book, she carried yellow rosebuds centered with two white orchids.

Miss Rita Mae Koch, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Langfeld, Miss Margaret Mueller and Miss Janice Rohrbach. Ellen Langfeld was junior bridesmaid and Judy Zerr was flower girl. All bridal attendants wore blue taffeta, princess style dresses and boleros topped with draped hoods of matching lace. They carried yellow carnations.

John Earl Boon served as best man and groomsmen were Maurice Zerr, Anthony Zerr, Joe Langfeld and Pat Ney. Bob Zerr was ring bearer and David Koch and Hilmer Lutz were ushers.

The reception was held in St. Dominic Hall after the ceremony. White gladioli centered the serving table and white candles were also used. The cake was three-tiered and decorated with pink rosebuds.

Approximately 250 guests were served a luncheon. They were registered by Misses Carol Ann Finger and Joan Rieber.

For traveling, the bride wore a

Schweers - O'Day Nuptials Solemnized By Candlelight

In a candlelight ceremony, Miss Monette Schweers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Schweers, of Hondo, became the bride of Robert O'Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Day of Kissimmee, Florida. The service was read at seven o'clock, Wednesday evening, August 28 in the First Methodist Church of Hondo with the Rev. Harold S. Goodenough, pastor, officiating in the double ring rites.

Mrs. H. B. Eggen played the traditional wedding music previous to and during the ceremony and accompanied Miss Gayle Knight who sang, "Through the Years", "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, was gown in Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice had a Sabina neckline accented with scallops of lace and long fitted sleeves tapering to points at the wrist. The front section of the bouffant skirt was made of alternating layers of lace and accordion pleated tulle. The lace overskirt swept into a chapel length train. Her veil of bridal illusion was edged in scallops of lace and attached to a half-hat fashioned of tulle petals and seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was a cascade arrangement of garnet roses. For "the something old" she wore a yellow gold bracelet set with a topaz, an engagement gift from her grandfather to her grandmother, which had been worn by her mother and grandmother at the time of their marriages.

The bride's attendants were her two sisters, Miss Constance Schweers as maid of honor and Miss Roxene Schweers as bridesmaid. They were dressed in identical fashions of pink lace and net over taffeta. The full skirts were floor length. Picture hats of pink lace and long white gloves completed their attire. They carried fans of white nylon net adorned with sprays of pink roses. The little flower girl was Miss Deborah Leinweber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Leinweber, who was also in pink. Her dress was of nylon organza with a peplum and collar accented with pleats. David Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Beard, was the ring bearer.

The groom's attendants were his brother Pat O'Day as best man and Glenn Schweers, groomsmen. Franklin Wiemers and Jimmy Leozenby served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pink lace sheath with matching duster, white accessories and orchid corsage. Mrs. Pat O'Day wore a white printed linen with white accessories and orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. Miss Joylene Tilley presided at the guest book. Miss Mary Jo Meyer served the tiered wedding cake, and Miss Gayle Knight served the sherbet punch.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will make their home in Alpine and complete their senior years work at Sul Ross State College.

Both the bride and groom have been active in school activities and were elected campus favorites the past year. The bride is a graduate of Hondo High School, having graduated with highest honors. She has been elected to Alpha Chi, Kappa Delta Pi, and Tau Beta Sigma. The groom is a graduate of Osceola High School of Kissimmee, Florida and was selected to this year's edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. He was president of the Student Council at Sul Ross State College. The groom is active in sports, particularly in basketball and baseball, and was chosen on the Little All-American team by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr.

and Mrs. Pat O'Day of Loma Linda, California, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davison, Evanston, Illinois, Lt. M.S. McCrum, Mather AFB, California, Mrs. Mae Davis and Mrs. Era T. Brown, Dallas, Mrs. Alfred Wiemers of Yancey, Dickie Allen of Alpine, Miss Jonell Wiemers of San Antonio, and Kenneth and Greg Schweers of Austin.

It's The Law In Texas

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them are transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when approaching a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule probably outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

ENSILING METHODS IMPORTANT

Feeding quality of silage depends upon the methods used in filling the silo as well as upon the forage with which it is loaded. And quality is usually determined within a few hours after ensiling because that's when the fermentation process important to preservation takes place, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

U. S. Department of Agriculture research shows that an important key to successful preservation is immediate exclusion of air from the silage, points out Meekma.

Forage tramped, weighted and immediately sealed usually made good quality silage in the experiments. On the other hand, forage left loose and unsealed for two days spoiled. Spoilage was even more complete when air was forced through the forage. The first few days and ultimately lost nutrients and much of the lactic acid needed for effective preservation, notes the husbandman.

Excessive temperature is an early symptom of spoilage in silage, says Meekma. But it's the exclusion of air that counts in controlling this heating and in encouraging proper fermentation.

Type of plant used in silage is, of course, another factor in quality. A surprising finding from the USDA research was that alfalfa consistently made better silage than orchard grass, despite the latter's higher sugar content. For one thing, alfalfa withstood higher temperatures with less nutrient loss. But, concludes Meekma, there was also a difference in the bacteria development in these two forages when they were similarly treated.

YARBROUGH OPPOSED TO GUN REGULATION

At a hearing before the Alcohol and Tobacco Division of the Internal Revenue Department today on a proposed regulation to require records of guns and ammunition sold, Senator Yarbrough presented the following statement:

"These proposed regulations would require all dealers to maintain a permanent record of all firearms received and disposed of, and would require every person who buys a gun or a box of shells to sign a receipt therefor. In my opinion these unnecessarily burdensome restrictions on our people."

"The people of Texas generally are accustomed to use firearms. This proposed law would require every farm boy to register his gun and have a receipt for every shell or cartridge bought if he wanted to hunt a buck, turkey, squirrel, dove, quail, or rabbit, or shoot a rattlesnake or wildcat. The rural homeowner would need a federal receipt to protect his chicken farm from a chicken hawk or from a rabid fox."

"Our people are a loyal people. They can be trusted by the government. Who is afraid of the people? This regulation smacks of a police state. It would be more reasonable to require a permit to go swimming in navigable waters than to require a shotgun and shell permit to hunt rabbits, because the swimming is more dangerous than the hunting."

"The oldest shooting club in the United States is at New Braunfels, Texas. The familiarity of our people with firearms has been a strong factor in the ability of our citizen soldiers to prepare speedily for battle in time of war. A nation of outdoorsmen is a healthy, vigorous nation. These restrictive and burdensome regulations would make it more expensive to keep and use guns and rifles. They would lessen the zeal of our people for outdoor sports in time of peace and effective military service in time of war.

She will be remembered as the former Barbara Vaughn of this city. She is doing nicely, but will have a lengthy stay at the hospital. M&M Welton Meyer and daughter Margaret were in Corpus Christi Sunday to visit her. She is Mrs. Meyer's niece. Paul Pope Jr. was here for a weekend visit with his parents, M&M Paul Pope Sr., and had as his guest Miss Tena Wood of Robstown.

"These regulations put bureaucracy in every gun closet in every home in America, and if adopted, would end the ancient concept that 'Every man's home is his castle', because it would invade the right to defend that home."

"I hope that this regulation is defeated. The taxpayers do not need a new burden to hire a new group of agents to keep count of all the shotguns and rifles and shells purchased for every home in America."

Yancey Area "Invaded" By Hunters From All Over

The Yancey area has been full of dove hunters since the season opened September 1. Our place has been very much "alive" with hunters, coming out from as far as Corpus Christi and Galveston.

Mr. Wallace and his friends from Corpus Christi always have ours for the Labor Day weekend and this weekend Dr. Dan Smith and Hugh and Maurice Atkins of Galveston flew in. They tied their plane down in our field and spent Saturday and Sunday afternoon hunting, spending the night in Devine with the Weldon Atkins, who came over for them in the car.

No one enjoyed hunting Saturday afternoon as much as Jan, Scott and Kris Holter the young grandchildren of the W.S. Garnett from Austin. While daddy (Martin Holter) sat on the side of the water trough and shot at one now and then as they came in, the children caught tadpoles and put them in bottles to take home with them.

M&M Martin Holter, Jan, Scott and Kris of Austin spent several days with her parents M&M W.S. Garnett last week.

M&M Phillip Nixon have returned from a visit with their daughter and son-in-law L. and Mrs. John Milam in Kansas.

M&M Lucian Ward received word a few days ago that a baby daughter had arrived at the I.R. Chalmers home, in La Fayette, La. Mrs. Chalmers is the former Evadna Ward.

Mrs. Ward and her son, Dr. Calvin Ward left the next day for La Fayette where Mrs. Ward will stay for a few weeks to help take care of the two year old (a boy) and the mother and new baby. Her youngest daughter, Peggy is with the Chalmers, going to college.

After leaving his mother with the Chalmers and visiting a few days with them himself, Dr. Ward will go on to Duke University in North Carolina where he will teach.

Dr. Ward has just returned from the South Pacific where he and a group of other scientists have spent the summer doing research work on atomic fallout and the effects on the human body.

Guests of M&M A.J. Hardt on Labor Day were the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Hardt and M&M Gentry of Alice and the Rev. Rucker and daughter Miss Lil Rucker.

Other guests were Mrs. Wesley Hardt of Malacoff and M&M Paul Todd and family of San Antonio.

Everybody's happy to see the J.N. Wilsons home for the weekend after about two weeks in Scott and White at Temple, where he had gone for tests and then had xray treatment and radium. He and Mrs. Wilson will return Monday and he will have more treatment, for several weeks. We are all hoping when this group of treatments are over he will be "good as new" again.

M&M Auda Vee McCrea spent last week at Lone Star M. V. Camp at Athens, Texas. From there they went to Shreveport, La. for a visit with relatives and friends, then on to Alice.

M&M Dan McCrea and M&M Auda Vee McCrea spent last Thursday in Whitney.

Visiting M&M George Heiligman on Sunday were his nephew George Heiligman and Mr. Russell of SA.

Visiting the George Heiligmans last week were M&M R.J. Anthony of SA.

Mrs. L.F. Faseler and Mrs. A. J. Hardt attended a W. S. C. S. meeting in Marble Falls Tuesday and Crystal City Wednesday.

Chaplain John Kepplinger of SA is holding a series of meetings at the Seventh Day Advent Church. Saturday night after the services the group went to the home of M&M Auda Vee McCrea for ice cream. Others there were M&M Aubrey Evans and M&M W.A. Moore and family.

M&M Jimmie Duderstadt and family of Bozeman, Mont. are visiting his parents, M&M Tom Duderstadt. Saturday they all went to Buchanan Dam and Granite Shoals Lake, for the day.

Mrs. L.F. Faseler went to Austin Thursday for a visit with her daughter and family, the Charles Wegner's.

EXTRA POINT IS DIFFERENCE AS

Owls Lose Opener To Indians

Potsavich, Mercer Lead Ground Attack For Owls

BY Q. R. LARSON

An extra point after touchdown by Bach Junior Scales made the difference as the Jourdan Indians pressed for a 19-18 win over the Hondo Owls in the season opener Friday night at Barry field.

These aren't the Owls of last year — and, that should hurt the feelings of no one — last year's Owls were just about as good as you will find in high school football — but, this year's gridders have all the makings of a first class team.

Apparently Coach "Buck" Carver is still developing a kicker, as no attempt was made in last week's game to kick the extra point. The Jourdan line proved to be a sturdy wall near the goal posts in the three extra point run attempts.

Billy Potsavich, right halfback, a calculating, evasive runner, carried the ball 15 times for 142 yards. He seemed to have the knack of finding the hole and using his blocking to good advantage.

John Henry Meyer works nicely out of the quarterback slot. He fakes his handoffs well and can throw an accurate pass — should be a real threat as the season progresses.

Carrying the ball from the half back spot was Sidney Mercer, who scored two of the Hondo TDs. When the short, sure gain through the line was needed, he came through. He carried the ball 25 times for 96 yards. Fullback Jimmy Applewhite drove for 20 yards on five carries.

The third TD for the Owls came on a pass from QB John Henry Meyer to End Bobby Ward from the Jourdan 30-yard line.

Jourdan scores were made by Junior Scales and Willie Urana, two fleet backs who are very hard to stop and very cagey. Scales ran two of the TDs and kicked the extra point. Ball handling by Quarterback Alex Ontiveraz should be credited with much of their success.

All in all, the first game of this season couldn't have been any better. The teams were evenly matched and they both played football. The spectators left with mixed feelings, there having to be a winner and there having to be a loser, but, no one grumbled about their not seeing a good football game, and that is the main reason for playing.

During half-time the Jourdan and Hondo bands, majorettes and cheerleaders entertained with marching and music. The Owl majorettes and cheerleaders were introduced by the announcer.

First Quarter

Jourdan kicked off to Hondo with Billy Potsavich returning the kick to the Owl 33-yard line. In a series of end plays and line smashes, Potsavich and Sidney Mercer carried the ball to the Jourdan 27-yard line where QB John Henry Meyer tossed a pass to Bobby Ward who ran it over for the TD. Potsavich failed to gain the goal line in the extra point try.

John Shepperd kicked for the Owls; Ronnie Earley returned the ball to the Indian 37-yard line. The Owl line held them to seven yards and they were forced to kick with Mercer returning the ball to the Owl 38.

The Owls gained the Indian 47-yard line where they kicked with the ball ending up on the Jourdan 5-yard line following a fumble by the receiver. Earley and Junior Scales gained their own 22-yard line where they kicked with the ball in Owl possession on the Indian 43-yard line at the end of the first quarter.

Second Quarter

Potsavich started the second quarter off by racing 20 yards to the Indian 22-yard line. Drives by Mercer and Jimmy Applewhite garnered a first down on the Indian 10-yard line with Mercer scampering around end on a hand-off for the TD. The Indian line held on the extra point try.

Along about now the Indians seemed to take a serious look at the 12-0 score and started to buckle down with Earley returning the kick to their own 35-yard line and two plays later receiving a pass that put only Owl Mercer between him and the goal line. Mercer saw his duty and did so, stopping Early on the Owl 28-yard line.

However, despite driving tackles by Charles Neumann, Gary Schweers and Bobby Ward, one of which ended in a fumble for the Indians, which they recovered, the Indians gained the Owl 5-yard line and Scales carried it over for the TD. He also kicked the sinning extra point.

Potsavich returned the kick to the Owl 36-yard line and after a short pass gain by Bobby Ward the Owls were forced to kick. The remaining minutes of the first half found the Indians and the Owls sea-sawing back and forth on the Jourdan 30-yard line with six passes being thrown in the last six plays. Hondo recovered an Indian fumble two seconds before the half ended.

Third Quarter

The Owls kicked off; Robert Netardus returned the action to the Indian 38-yard line. A penalty of five yards was sustained by the Indians, but a 15-yard penalty against Hondo put them on the 45-yard line. Scales carried to the Owl 42 where another 15-yard penalty against the Owls moved them to the Owl 28.

The ball went over on downs and a series of drives by Mercer and Potsavich gained the Indian 45-yard line where the Indians recovered a Hondo fumble. Indian Back Willie Urana came into the game with Scales and Urana scampering 53 yards in 11 runs to score the TD. Scales ran the ball over. Owl center Bernie Zerr blocked the extra point try.

On the return play the Owls gained their own 33-yard line where they threw a pass which was intercepted by Indian Frank Gonzales on the 40. It was urn back to the 36, where Urana took a hand-off over tackle and scampered the 36 yards for the TD. Extra point try was blocked.

The third quarter ended with the Owls on their own 39-yard line.

Fourth Quarter

Three yards were made on a short pass. Potsavich took a hand-off around end good for 35 yards to the Indian 23-yard line. Short drives by Potsavich, Mercer and Applewhite moved the Owls to the 3-yard line with Mercer driving over for the TD. Extra point again met the wall.

The Indians returned the ball on a series of ground plays to their own 46-yard line where they fumbled and Owl Edward Robbins recovered. This looked like the winning touchdown with Potsavich immediately rading 23 yards to the Indian 23. A first down was gained on the Jourdan 13-yard line with the help of a five-yard penalty, but on four attempts, they were unable to make the goal line or another first down and the ball ended up in Indian possession on their own 5-yard line.

The game ended with the Indians on their own 39-yard line. An interesting game with action every minute and a chance for both teams to be winners all the way through. The Owls meet Del Rio next week in Del Rio.

Ed Note: Two football stories are being printed this week, one written by Q. R. Larson of the Anvil Herald Staff, and the other by a newcomer to the sports writing field, Georg Gaston. Georg, a Hondo High Junior, is going to be our sports editor. We think he did a fine job of writing this story and he will be doing a solo after this week.

By Georg Gaston

Whoever wrote "little things mean a lot" must have had the opening game of the Hondo Owls in mind. The Owls opened the 1957 football season on a rather sour note as they were nosed out by the visiting Indians, 19 to 18. The hard fought battle had its share of thrills amid fumbles and penalties, but when the final gun sounded it was a little thing—the extra point—that led to the downfall of the Owl eleven.

Starting on their 32 yard line, the Owls took the opening kickoff and, a series of short plunges and sweeps and three first downs later QB Johnny Meyer connected on a neat 26 yard pass to Bobby Ward in the left flat and the big end scampered across into paydirt with the first six pointer. The extra point try went stale.

But the Owls did not stop here as early in the second period they again used short plunges helped by a 21 yarder by Co-Captain Billy Potsavich to reach the Jourdan 10 from where HB Sidney Mercer swept right end to put the Owls in front 12 to 0. Once more the extra point failed.

At this point the Tribe rebounded with drive of its own with FB Junior Scales, who all night proved to be the Chief Indian, going over from inside the five. Scales split the uprights with the extra point that eventually proved to be the death sentence to the Owl cause.

The remainder of the first half was marked by three quick fumbles, the first one recovered by Charles Neuman, one of two Freshmen in the forward wall, on the Jourdan 30. With time running out, Meyer tried 4 unsuccessful pass plays and the half ended with the big scoreboard showing the Owls leading 12-7.

The Indians took the second half kickoff and pressed to the Owl 27 only to be held on downs, but lost the ball on a fumble. This one proved fatal as the Indians' Scales quickly followed with the go-ahead-to-stay 6 pointer from 2 yards out. Linebacker Bernie Zerr broke through to block the extra point.

At this time the Owls seemed to fall apart. Potsavich carried the kickoff back to the 28, but Jourdan intercepted a pass on the home 36 and on the first play HB Urana broke through the left side and raced to a TD. The extra point try went wide and the third period ended with the Indians winning 19-12; and Scales kick was now beginning to look as big and mean as a professional full-back.

But the Owls, displaying new fire, jumped back into contention as, starting the last quarter on their 40, Potsavich took a screen pass and sped to the Jourdan 25. Mercer soon followed with a 3 yard scoring plunge with 8:50 remaining. But once more the extra point try failed and with it went the game.

The Owls did make a last ditch drive deep into Indian territory but were held on downs on the 6 with only 2 minutes to be played and never got their hands on the pigskin again as Jourdan easily ran out the clock.

JENNINGS DOES IT

It finally happened. Dr. John H. Jennings got the golfers once in a life time event last Sunday in Kerrville — a hole in one.

Statistics? 135 yards, no. 8 hole, nine iron. Local pro Joe Mitchell, Blanton Taylor, James Richter and Capt. Buck Biddle made up the five-some and were his witnesses.

MONEY AND BANKING

In Everyday Living

GET THOSE DENTS OUT of your car's fenders! Authorities on auto maintenance say that the cost of doing so will be little alongside the price you might pay for neglect. Heat, humidity, and weathering enlarge such damaged areas. Left unattended to, they might well corrode so badly that new fenders would be needed.

HIGH IN A PLANE, flying over our community, how quickly could you find our bank? Let's see: There's A's home (financed through our bank); and that's B's house—you can tell by the new roof (which a loan from us made possible). That must be C's handsome two-tone car (bought with the help of credit from us); and there goes the truck taking Mrs. D her new refrigerator (we financed that, too)... Seems as though you've "found the bank" several times already, doesn't it? Ah! There's our bank building—the source of all that very helpful credit. Won't you drop in to talk over your credit need? We lend for all sound purposes—at low cost.

A BIRTHDAY IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT—to some people (and we are among them), it is an occasion for appraisal and rededication. From that viewpoint, we at the bank feel that every day is a sort of birthday. With each new day, we have a new opportunity to evaluate our progress in providing more and better banking service for our neighbors—and a new opportunity to progress even further along that line. We sincerely try to make the most of these opportunities—every day.
